

Grammar Test No 4 March 10, 2015 Name: _____

Put in the right Auxiliary (able to, allowed to, have to, may, might, should/ought to)

- a. On a trip to England me and my husband were soon lost and _____ find any road signs to guide us.
- b. Visitors of Manhattan _____ visit the Statue of Liberty.
- c. It _____ one day be possible to use a translating machine.
- d. It is difficult to make a programme which the PC _____ to read.
- e. The translating machine _____ know a lot about grammar.
- f. _____ I take this book, please?
- g. Tom asked if he _____ go to the lecture on computers.
- h. _____ I talk to you for a few minutes, please?
- i. It _____ happen again.
- j. I have not _____ translate the text.
- k. When I was four years old I _____ already swim.
- l. What _____ we do with this computer?
- m. We _____ come for lessons twice every week.
- n. A computer can translate easy texts into another language. In the future a computer _____ to translate difficult texts.
- o. I hope I can do the work myself. I hope to _____ to do the work myself.
- p. Shall I ask the computer? The translator asked if he _____ ask the computer.

[16]

Translate the following sentences into correct English

q. Kannst du diese Frage beantworten? [1]

r. Peter muss die Frage beantworten! [1]

s. Ein kleines Kind kann noch nicht richtig sprechen. [1]

t. Ein Erwachsener muss richtig lesen können. [1]

u. Ich werde kommen können. [1]

Form Questions with „allowed to“

v. to cross the street at the zebra crossing [1]

w. to cross when the lights are red [1]

x. to swim in the sea when the waves are high [1]

needn't/mustn't/ don't have to

1. I'll be quite late getting to London, but you _____ change your plans for me.
2. I'm afraid I owe quite a lot of money to the bank – but you _____ worry about me.
3. Next time read the small print in the document before you sign it. You _____ make the same mistake.

[3]

Total points 27

Your score /27

