

Die Ersatzverben (substitutes)

Put in: to be able to / to be allowed to/ can/ could

1. When Blacky was a puppy, he (cannot) _____ eat meat, but he (can)_____ sleep in Peters bed.
2. Now Blacky is a big dog. He (can) _____ to go for a walk, he (can) _____ play football with Peter, but he (cannot)_____ to sleep in Peters bed.
3. Peter asks his mother: “ (can)_____ to go for a walk with Blacky?”
4. When Blacky becomes an old dog, he (can)_____ to sleep in Peters room again. But he (cannot)_____ to play football with Peter.
5. Blacky (can) _____ sleep while Peter is playing football. But he (cannot)_____ hunt the neighbours’ cat.
6. When Blacky was young, he (cannot)_____ go upstairs to Peters room on his own. Now he (can)_____ go upstairs, but he (cannot)_____ to do it.

Die Ersatzverben (substitutes)

Put in: to be able to / to be allowed to/ can/ could

1. When Blacky was a puppy, he (cannot) __wasn't able to____ eat meat, but he (can)___is allowed to_____ sleep in Peters bed.
2. Now Blacky is a big dog. He (can) ___is able to_____ to go for a walk, he (can) ___is allowed to____ play football with Peter, but he (cannot)___isn't allowed to_____ to sleep in Peters bed.
3. Peter asks his mother: “ (can)___ Am I allowed to_____ to go for a walk with Blacky?
4. When Blacky becomes an old dog, he (can)___is allowed __ to sleep in Peters room again. But he (cannot)___isn't able_____ to play football with Peter.
5. Blacky (can) ___is allowed to_____ sleep while Peter is playing football. But he (cannot)___isn't able_____ hunt the neighbours' cat.
6. When Blacky was young, he (cannot)___wasn't able_____ go upstairs to Peters room on his own. Now he (can)___is able to_____ go upstairs, but he (cannot)___isn't allowed_____ to do it.